

Sample Prohibited Items List (April 2024)

To facilitate efforts to maintain safe and secure shipboard environments for passengers and crew throughout the global cruise itinerary, this Sample Prohibited Items List includes items that the security professionals of CLIA's Members have identified as potentially being dangerous or posing a risk to the crew, passengers, or ship. Possession by passengers or crew of these items is generally not permissible without a valid lawful reason, unless required in direct support of ship operations, as part of a crew member's official duties, and with consent of a duly authorized ship representative.

This document is provided in an editable format that each cruise line can tailor to individual Company requirements, if appropriate. Each cruise line may:

- adapt relevant portions of this Sample Prohibited Items List to existing fleet or ship-specific plans based on ship size and design, itinerary location and duration and other relevant considerations;
- modify or delete provisions of this Sample Prohibited Items List that may not apply operationally to a specific ship;
- develop their own procedures for how to allow appropriate and justified exceptions;
- review this Sample Prohibited Items List periodically with ship-specific plans to consider appropriate modifications.
